From the Editor

Editorial

Thomas J. Robertson

Suggested Citation

Robertson, T. J. (1976). Editorial. International Journal of Oral Myology, 2(3), i.

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.52010/ijom.1976.2.3.3>

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International License.

The views expressed in this article are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the policies or positions of the International Association of Orofacial Myology (IAOM). Identification of specific products, programs, or equipment does not constitute or imply endorsement by the authors or the IAOM. The journal in which this article appears is hosted on Digital Commons, an Elsevier platform.

Editorial

International Association of Oral Myology

This year the International Association of Oral Myology had a terrific learning program, well organized with much time taken in its preparation. The convention committee for the Ottawa convention should be congratulated for their efforts on the association's behalf. Specific honors should go to Grace Kalbfleisch and Dr. Gladys Jann.

As with all professional associations, it is difficult to muster mass enthusiasm with many professionals already inundated with numerous priorities. The International Association of Oral Myology now, still in its infancy, and rapidly growing is in need of conscientious, progressive professionals who are willing to devote time and effort to make policy decisions, do research, serve on committees, etc.; not just pay dues.

The International Association of Oral Myology is now a recognized professional organization and must continue to make strides for the professionalism which the International Association of Oral Myology is noted.

Without a strong united association, a certificate on the wall, certification as an oral myologist, or journal is useless. Be a participant.

T.J.R.